Grammar homework 20.11-27.11

Apostrophes for Possession and Contraction

What is an apostrophe?

An apostrophe is used:

- To show possession (something belongs to someone)
- To show a contraction (letters have been left out)

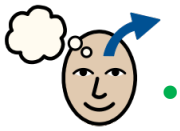
Example:



- The boy's coat (the coat belongs to the boy)
- Don't = do not
- It's = it is

***

Is it possession or contraction?

Write P for possession or C for contraction.

a) It's cold in Norway.
b) The fisherman's boat was near the shore.
c) She can't see the Northern Lights tonight.
d) The children's coats were thick and warm.

Add the missing apostrophes

Rewrite each sentence correctly.

1. The reindeers antlers were huge.
2. Its going to be very cold tomorrow.
3. The tourists camera fell into the snow.
4. We didnt see the Northern Lights last night.

Choose the correct option

Circle the correct word.

1. (Its / It's) important to stay warm in winter.
2. The explorers (boots / boot's) were covered in snow.
3. (They're / Their) visiting Norway next week.
4. The (dogs / dog's) played together excitedly.