

Home is Where the Heart is

John 13:31-35

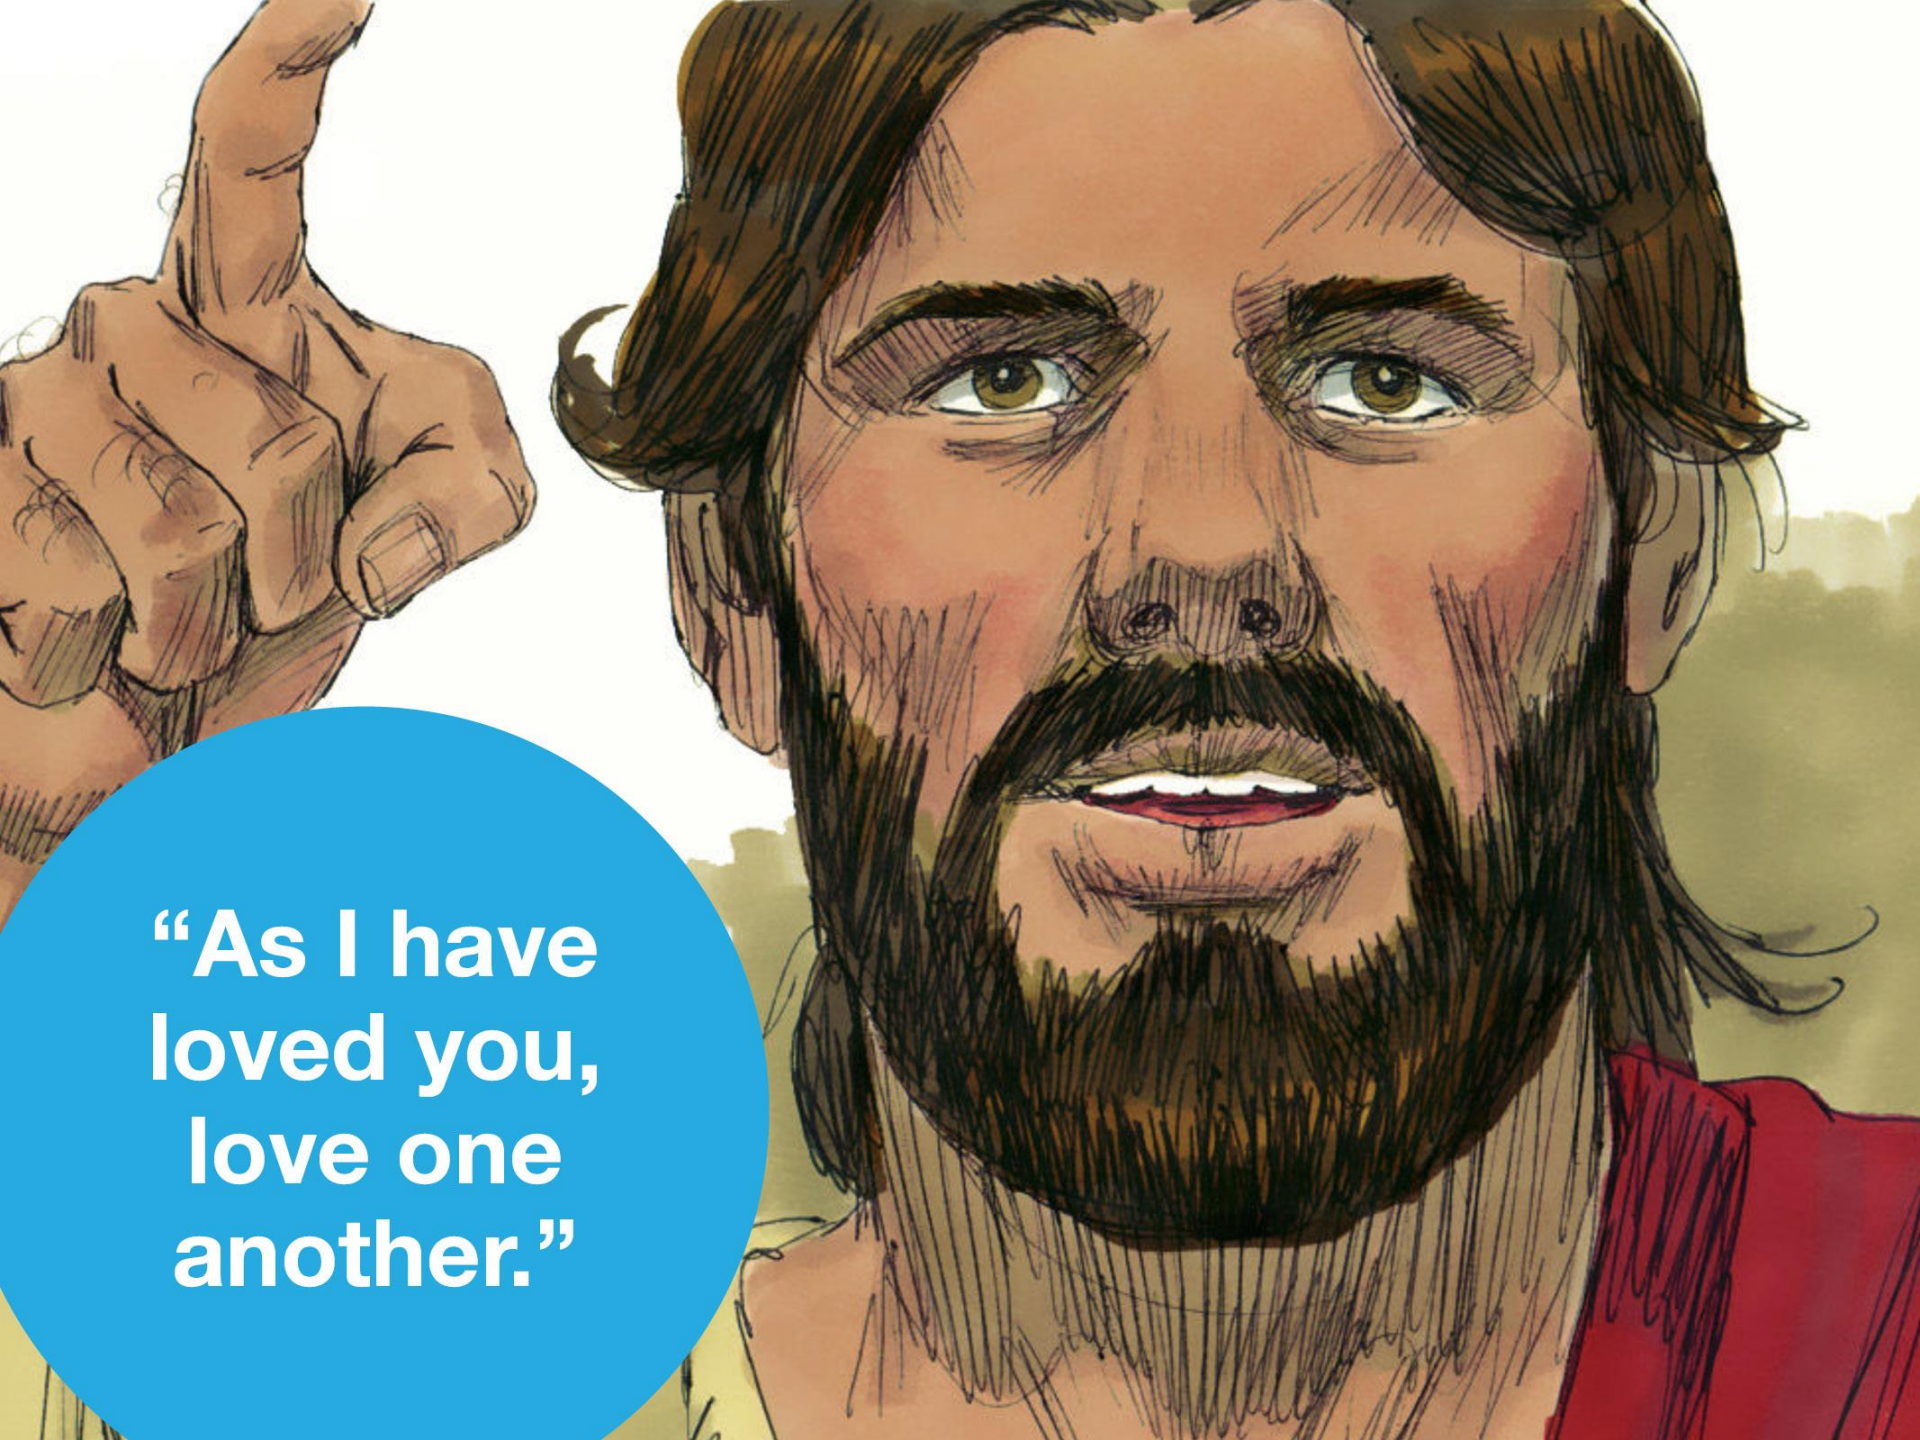

If, like Bonnie,
we don't know
how best to love
someone, what can we do?

How and why did each of the characters find it difficult to love
one another?

Why did Ben
leave home?

“As I have loved you,
love one another.”

A pair of hands is shown from a top-down perspective, gently cupping a bright red, glossy heart. The heart is the central focus and contains the text 'Home is Where the Heart is.' in white, bold, sans-serif font. The hands are light-skinned and positioned symmetrically around the heart. The background is a soft, out-of-focus light green and white, suggesting an indoor setting. The entire scene is framed within a circular white area, which is itself set against a solid red background.

Home is Where the Heart is.

Dear Jesus,

You told us to “love one another.”
Sometimes that feels easy but other times it feels really difficult.
Thank you for showing me true love
by dying on the cross.
Help me to always choose your path of love.

Amen
